Dear KPMG Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Manager, Complex Securities position at KPMG, as advertised. With a robust background in financial engineering, coupled with extensive experience in the valuation and trading of complex financial instruments, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your esteemed valuations practice.

At Gazprombank, where I managed high-volume trading and strategic valuation projects, I developed key insights into financial instrument valuation, risk management, and regulatory compliance. I spearheaded the implementation of advanced statistical and econometric techniques, such as Monte Carlo simulations and multiple variations of Black-Scholes models, to enhance the accuracy and reliability of complex securities valuations. My role also involved presenting and documenting valuation outcomes to stakeholders, ensuring transparency and adherence to regulatory standards.

Furthermore, my hands-on experience in developing trading infrastructures and leading technology-driven projects will be of great benefit to KPMG. I have successfully led teams in designing and implementing pricing engines and risk assessment tools that have decisively improved operational efficiencies and market responsiveness.

I am particularly drawn to this role at KPMG due to its focus on using sophisticated financial models for valuation purposes and the opportunity to work within a dynamic, market-leading team. I am keen to bring my expertise in quantitative finance and my proactive approach to business challenges to your firm.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of discussing how I can contribute to the continued success and innovation of KPMG's valuations practice.

Yours Faithfully,

Arkadiy Klyukin
